FOREWORD AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Institute for the Development of Education successfully organized the 12th Higher Education and Scholarships Fair in Croatia, which was held on Tuesday, 11 October 2016 at the National and University Library in Zagreb and on Thursday, 13 October 2016 at the University departments building of the University of Rijeka.

As we will show in this report, this year's Fair was the most successful to date, with over 50 exhibitors from 13 countries and over 10 000 visitors. Every year we strive to ensure that the Fair is innovative, relevant and attractive to all stakeholders in higher education. From the rich program of this year's Fair we would like to highlight the following aspects:

- Main Partners of the Fair: To our great satisfaction, we continued the successful cooperation with our long term Fair partners, the University of Rijeka and the National and University Library in Zagreb.
- Donors: It is a great honour that the importance of our Fair is recognized by our faithful donors, who enable the Fair each year with their support. We would like to especially thank the Ministry of Science, Education and Sports of the Republic of Croatia, the Agency for Mobility and EU Programmes, National Foundation for Civil Society Development, The City of Rijeka and Primorje-Gorski Kotar County.
- Partner Country: Germany:
This year's Fair put special emphasis on the possibilities for studying, scholarships and qualifications in Germany. Germany is among the top 3 most desirable destinations for international students, and more than 12% of students enrolled at German higher education institutions are students from abroad. Germany as an educational destination is also particularly popular among Croatian students. Since 2009, when Erasmus program first started in Croatia, Germany has been the most popular destination for Croatian students who are interested in studying and internships abroad. Besides information on study and scholarship programs, Fair's visitors had an opportunity to talk to alumni from German higher education institutions. Through experiences of Croatian students who studied in Germany, visitors could get a detailed insight not only in study opportunities, but also practical information on student life in Germany. Germany's participation at the Fair was made possible with the support from The Embassy of the Federal Republic of Germany in Zagreb.
- International exhibitors: In addition to 25 exhibitors from Croatia, this year's Fair presented 39 institutions from 12 countries in Europe, North America and Asia.
- Croatian Corner:
Special novelty of this year's Fair was the Croatian Corner, a part of the Fair which was reserved for non-profit institutions and organizations who grant scholarships for studying in Croatia. Goal of the Croatian Corner was to provide students with a possibility to find out key information about scholarships for studying in Croatia.

- Expert round table:

Round table on the topic of „Recognition of foreign educational qualifications and study abroad: Have we removed the obstacles?“ The round table gathered speakers who talked about the recognition of studying abroad and recognition of higher education qualifications from abroad for purposes of further education at Croatian higher education institutions and employment in Croatia. Participants of the round table included representatives from the Ministry of Science, Education and Sports, the Agency for Science and Higher Education, the University of Rijeka and students from Erasmus Student Network.

- Research presentation:

Included in the Fair's program was a presentation of an important national research from the area of higher education conducted by the Agency for Mobility and EU Programmes titled „Presentation of the first national research on internationalization of higher education“.

- Student organizations: Student organizations presented many opportunities for international mobility and a variety of activities for developing skills and competencies that are important for students' careers. At the fairs in Rijeka and Zagreb, 14 student organizations presented their diverse programs.

- Online Fair and webinars: At the portal www.stipendije.info there is an Online Fair where the Fair exhibitors present their offer through articles and multimedia content. Also, many exhibitors will present their study programs and financial support opportunities through interesting interactive virtual presentations (webinars).

The organization of this year's Fair, like all previous ones, would not be possible without the support of the Fair's partners, sponsors and donors. The organization of the Fair is a result of partnership with more than 50 institutions, as well as the involvement of many volunteers, which we hereby thank for their support and cooperation and hopefully – future cooperation.

I. PARTNER COUNTRY: GERMANY

This year's Fair put special emphasis on the possibilities for studying, scholarships and qualifications in Germany. Germany is among the top 3 most desirable destinations for international students, and more than 12% of students enrolled at German higher education institutions are students from abroad. Germany as an educational destination is also particularly popular among Croatian students. Since 2009, when Erasmus program first started in Croatia, Germany has been the most popular destination for Croatian students who are interested in studying and internships abroad. Besides information on study and scholarship programs, Fair's visitors had an opportunity to talk to alumni from German higher education institutions. Through experiences of Croatian students who studied in Germany, visitors could get a detailed insight not only in study opportunities, but also practical information on student life in Germany. Germany's participation at the Fair was made possible with support from the Embassy of the Federal Republic of Germany in Zagreb. We highlight the following information on German higher education, study programs and possibilities for scholarships available to Croatian students for studying in Germany:

- Large number of institutions and programs
There are almost 450 state recognized institutions with around 17 500 study programs in Germany.
- Large selection of study programs in English
An increasing number of study programs are held in English, mostly graduate programs.
- Excellent, internationally acknowledged universities
According to the Academic Ranking of World Universities list (also known as the Shanghai List), Universities of München and Heidelberg are among top 50 in the world.
- Study with no tuition fees
German higher education institutions either don't charge tuition fees or they are very low because most of them are funded by the state. Undergraduate programs at state higher education institutions are typically tuition-free.
- Numerous scholarship programs
German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) is among the leading scholarship organizations in the world, offering a large number of study programs.
- Dual education system
Germany is renowned for its dual education system which combines theoretical with practical education and enables linking the education system with the needs of the labor market.

Croatian Corner

Special novelty of this year's Fair was the Croatian Corner, a part of the Fair which was reserved for non-profit institutions and organizations who grant scholarships for studying in Croatia. Non-profit organizations and foundations grant scholarships in order to provide underrepresented and vulnerable social groups access to higher education. For this reason, IDE as the organizer of the Fair provided free exhibitor stands for all non-profit organizations which offer scholarships for studying in Croatia. Fundamental guideline for IDE's efforts in organizing the Fair for the past 12 years has been the idea that education should be available to everyone, regardless of their social status. The goal of introducing the Croatian Corner to the Fair was to provide students with key information on scholarships for studying in Croatia, as well as supporting initiatives aimed at creating equal opportunities for all students to participate in higher education.

Exhibitors of this year's Croatian Corner were:

- Foundation for scholarships for Croatian veterans from the Homeland War and children of Croatian veterans from the Homeland War
- National Foundation for Support of Pupil and Student Standard
- Biotechnical Foundation of the Faculty of Food Technology and Biotechnology at the University of Zagreb which grants scholarships, rewards and support to its talented and successful students, as well as networking assistance between students and potential employers, under the motto „Employ the youth in Croatia, so their first job is not abroad!“
- Confucius Institute at the University of Zagreb grants scholarships for students, scholars and teachers studying Chinese language.
- Croatian Foundation for Education of Visually Impaired „Marko Brkić“ offers scholarships to blind and visually impaired students.
- Humanitarian organization Dora and Organization of Bosnian Croats „Prsten“ offers financial aid to students of lower socioeconomic status.
- Ana Rukavina Foundation grants scholarships for education and training of young doctors at prestigious hospitals all around the world, after which they return to Croatia, spread their knowledge among colleagues and provide quality healthcare to patients in Croatia.

III. VISITORS

Around 10 000 visitors attended this year's Fair (7 000 in Zagreb and 3 000 in Rijeka). The Institute for the Development of Education conducted a survey among the visitors of the Fair to determine the visitors' profile and their interests, as well as their evaluation of the Fair's quality. 506 visitors participated in the survey and its results are listed below.

Visitors' profile

University students comprised around 68% of all surveyed visitors; mostly undergraduate students (50%) and graduate students (17%). High school students constituted around 30% of the total number of Fair visitors.

It should be emphasized that the Fair attracted students from all fields of study and that the visitors' profile corresponds closely to the actual structure of the student body in Croatia by academic field, apart from students from humanities and social sciences being slightly underrepresented and technical sciences students being slightly overrepresented. The profile of the visitors by academic field was the following: humanities and social sciences (46%), technical sciences (30%), natural sciences (9%), biotechnical sciences (9%), biomedicine and health studies (around 6%) and art (around 1%).

DAAD representatives presented scholarships available to Croatian citizens for studying in Germany. Besides information on study and scholarship programs, visitors had the opportunity to talk to DAAD alumni who used financial support to study at German HE institutions. Through conversation with them the visitors of the Fair had the chance to get a detailed insight in their experiences and get practical information about the application process for scholarships and financial aid, but also on student life in Germany.

Presentations

The workshops were attended by more than 100 high school and university students.

Special features of the Fair: MIG aircraft flying simulator, Speed dating with alumni and „Famous look-alike“

Special novelty of this year's program at the Fair was „Speed dating with alumni“, during which visitors had the opportunity to talk to Croatian alumni who studied abroad. Through their experiences the visitors had the chance to get a detailed insight into possibilities for studies, as well as practical advice on student life in different parts of the world.

Visitors of the Fair had the opportunity to try out the MIG aircraft flying simulator which was presented by Fair's longstanding exhibitor - Ministry of Defense of the Republic of Croatia. It's a computer flying simulator of Croatian Air Force and Air Defense aircraft. The simulator consists of an original aircraft seat connected to a computer and a screen showing the flight. Visitors could try flying with PC-9 training aircraft and MiG-21 fighter aircraft.
